

Please prepare and give the dose of bathicillin to the arm following the prescription, the study IV guide and your usual local policies, just as you would for a real patient, except:

- You can assume the prescription is all correct
- You can assume all the information in the IV guide is correct
- You do not need to get a second check
- You do not need to label the medicine
- You do not need to check the patient's identity or allergies
- You do not need to tell the patient what you are doing

Please tell me when you would leave the patient's bedside – this is when the simulation finishes.

Remember, we're testing the IV guide, not you!
